BIBLE STUDY: Spirit Poured Out Read Acts 2:1-21

There seems to be two parts to the amazement and astonishment of the crowd – that Galileans were speaking various languages (v. 7) and that they each could hear their own language (v.8). Think about how hard it is to hear when people are speaking at the same time in one language. Now try to imagine being able to pick out your own language and discern what people are saying! If you had been in that crowd, would you have been amazed (v. 12) or skeptical (v. 13)?

Why does our culture tend to be skeptical about experiences with God? [Some experiences might seem manufactured or phony or draw attention to a person.]

What are some markers or signs of an authentic encounter with the Holy Spirit? [One marker of an authentic encounter with the Holy Spirit is that the experience should result in indications of the fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22-23).]

What are some practices that open us up to experiencing the Holy Spirit? [Means of grace – corporate worship, Scripture reading, prayer, journaling, fasting, group study, etc.]

CLOSING PRAYER

Holy Spirit, pour out on us your love. Renew us in the strength of your might. Embolden us to be witness for your kingdom. Guide our steps so that our actions and words will be a demonstration of your peace and love. Amen.
